

CYPRUS

The Personal Envoy of the Secretary-General on Cyprus, Maria Angela Holguín, has this week concluded her third visit to the island, as well as visits to Ankara and Athens.

As she informed the media in Cyprus on 13 May, she will soon begin to prepare her report to the Secretary-General with her findings and will discuss with him the way forward.

In the meantime, she continues her efforts to search for common ground.