

Question: Georgia, Athens and Cyprus News Agency. Hi. Thank you, Farhan. Firstly, when does Ms. [Maria Isabel] Holguin plan to update the Secretary-General on the progress of her talks in Cyprus? And secondly, when would you anticipate her to present her report?

Spokesperson: Well, luckily for me, the second question can be actually answered by the incoming Council presidency, who will be briefing you at 1:00, so you can ask them when Cyprus comes up on the calendar. Ms. Holguin has been in touch with UN officials up and down the chain, but she'll continue to keep us updated about her work.

Question: Thank you, Farhan. I just have a follow up on my colleague Georgia's question on the personal envoy of the Secretary-General, Ms. Holguin. You mentioned that she's going to report to the Council, but do you mean is she going to report to the Secretary-General? Because as she's a personal envoy, does she have the mandate to report to the Council or to the Secretary-General?

Spokesperson: I believe she reports to the Secretary-General, and then we provide that information to the Security Council. I was just letting your colleague know that, in terms of when the Security Council takes this up, that's an issue
